The Eruption of Mount Pelée

by All Everts

Show What You Know

The eruption of Mount Pelée was one of the deadliest volcanic eruptions in history.

- Imagine you are a newspaper reporter. Write a newspaper article about the eruption.
- Use the SWs to help you. Who is the article for? Where did it take place? When did it take place? What happened? Why did it happen?

Work Together

The author wrote that Mount Pelée erupted like an enormous plume. This is a simile. A simile compares two things that are not alike. Similes use the words like or as.

- Get into pairs. Each person will describe one of the following things from the text.
- ash pattered down
- the ground trembled
- hot rocks and ash fell
- Once completed, read your descriptions to your partner.
- Choose five interesting descriptions to share with the class.

The Eruption of Mount Pelée

by All Everts

Team Up!

How much do you know about volcanoes? Which is the tallest, the smallest, the deadliest, the most visited?

- Divide into groups. Research using superlatives to describe volcanoes.
- Present your findings in a poster.
- Share your completed poster with the class.

The Eruption of Mount Pelée

by All Everts

Write All About It!

In the text, the author uses highly descriptive language to convey Havivra's feelings as well as what she experiences during the eruption.

- Imagine you had witnessed a volcanic eruption. Write a description of the event in the first person. Use lots of descriptive language and pay particular attention to the five senses. What can you see, hear, smell, feel and taste during the eruption?
- Once you have written your piece, read it aloud to yourself. Edit and revise your writing. Check the spelling, punctuation and grammar.
- Then share your work with a friend or the rest of the class.
